Dear Congressman Luis Gutierrez:

Enclosed is a letter sent to two offices of the IRS. You have shown love, understanding and commitment to the numerous issues and foes that have befallen to Puerto Ricans throughout the last two decades. This is just one in many, pertaining to the aggressions of the IRS to self employed Puerto Ricans, in particular to the ones within the low brackets of net profits. The letter sent is explanatory of the situation so I won't repeat myself.

I am quite worried as to the trend of young people, as well as people of all ages, leaving our country (Puerto Rico) because they are not able to make ends meet while the social crisis soars unendingly. I am sure a task force of good will people would be of help in order to device ways to curtail the aggressions of the US government dependencies on people who work and who resist to base their lives on food stamps. I am hopeful you can make this happen.

Cordially,

Raymond Soto Davila
